Some frequently asked questions...

What is the correct layout of the Tree?

This is a personalized item, so the layout is really up to you! There is no exact or correct way. As a general guideline, you may put the parents' names in the heart, then place the oldest family members near the bottom going up around the Tree to the youngest. Some women choose to use their maiden name. Middle names may also be used. Some families prefer to use last names for spouses.

What about Title of Occasion?

To commemorate a special event, you may choose any title. Some suggestions are: Mothers Day, Our Loving Family, Our Family Tree, Merry Christmas, Happy Birthday, Happy 50th Anniversary or To Mom With Love.

How far back in my genealogy can I go?

The Tree usually starts with a couple or an individual represented in the heart of the Tree. Descendents from the people in the heart are grouped up around the branches usually in family groups. Ancestors (grandparents or great-grandparents), if you wish to include them, are best placed near the roots of the Tree.

What about a deceased family member?

There are several options in this case. Some people choose to put a small cross symbol next to the name, while others place the death date under the birthdate. In case of an infant's death at birth, an angel or rosebud symbol is often selected.

What do you do for divorced couples?

A sensitive way to handle this is to have one parent in the heart. When parents have been divorced and remarried it is possible to have more than one spouse on the Tree. This is common when there are children from more than one marriage. A broken heart symbol may be used by a divorced spouse. If a spouse is deceased and there is a remarriage, you may wish to have both names on the Tree. The main thing to remember is the Tree represents your family and its design is your choice.

Can additional wedding dates be included?

Yes, you may add wedding dates and stones representing the wedding dates for married couples. We also can add a wedding bells symbol with or without the wedding date.

Are there any other symbols?

We have a cat symbol or paw print to symbolize a beloved pet on the Tree.

May more names and dates be added later?

Yes! Have your dealer send us the Tree along with the names and dates to be added. Be sure to indicate where on the Tree the additions will be located. The addition process takes approximately three weeks. If your dealer chooses not to handle additions, you may send your Tree of Life directly to us.

In case of a divorce can a name be removed from the Tree?

Yes, it is a simple procedure. You or your dealer will send us the Tree and indicate which name needs to be removed. We refer to this procedure as a correction. Please review the prices below.

I made a mistake. How do I make the correction?

You or your dealer will send us the Tree and indicate the corrections. Correction charges are indicated below. Of course, if there was an error on our part, there will be no charge.
